By memorandum to the Attorney General dated 7/9/65, Lee C. White, Special Counsel to the President, the White House, forwarded a letter to the President dated 7/4/65 from Providence 6, Rhode Island, with the question, "How do you suggest we handle this one?" letter was in turn forwarded to Mr. DeLoach by memorandum from the Attorney General dated 7/13/65 with the question, "Do you have any suggestions which the Attorney General might make to Lee White?"

letter charges that at a recent briefing session held at The National War College a Mr. Sullivan of the FBI stated that it was widely known that the Reverend Martin Luther King was a homosexual. stated that the libel cannot be answered or withdrawn and that Mr. Sullivan's action was unforgivable and called for immediate disciplinary action.

On 6/28/65, Assistant Director Sullivan addressed the annual Defense Strategy Seminar, The National War College, Washington, D.C., on the subject, "Internal Security." Members of the Seminar held security clearance through Secret. Mr. Sullivan's address and the question and answer period which followed it was a classified discussion which included material classified Secret. Mr. Sullivan did not mention King in his address. In the question and answer period following his address, the role of King in the civil rights movement was brought up for discussion. Mr. Sullivan pointed out that subversive elements can and do exploit personal weaknesses to attain their objectives. He stated that King had two sides, one of which leaves much to be desired. He said that some of King's activities of this, King could well become a great liability to the civil rights movement and a real albatross around the neck of the Negro people. Mr. Sullivan summed up his remarks by saying that because of King's shortcomings, it is most unfortunate that King has risen to a position of such importance in the racial situation. At no time did Mr. Sullivan state that King was a homosexual.

Re: [REDACTED] b7(c)

[REDACTED] b(1)

OBSERVATIONS:

b7(c) According to the Director of the Defense Strategy Seminar, [REDACTED] is not listed as having been in attendance at this Seminar. Those in attendance at the Seminar held security clearance through Secret and Mr. Sullivan's address was a classified discussion including material classified through Secret. It appears obvious that [REDACTED] letter is based on hearsay information obtained from an unknown source. [REDACTED] donations to the Southern Conference Educational Fund and his participation in Fair Housing legislation indicate that he is involved in civil rights activities and undoubtedly is an admirer of King.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

b7(c) (1) That the attached letter ~~and memorandum~~ be sent to Lee C. White suggesting that he may wish to reply to [REDACTED] advising him that Mr. Sullivan spoke at The National War College in June, 1965, but that this was a classified discussion and therefore his remarks could not be disclosed to [REDACTED]. However, he, White, had ascertained that Mr. Sullivan made no statement that Martin Luther King is a homosexual.

(2) That the attached letter be forwarded to the Attorney General with a copy to the Deputy Attorney General furnishing him copies of the letter and memorandum sent to Mr. White.

[REDACTED] said something about trying to talk to someone at the FBI in Washington but his conversation was unintelligible. He said "I know I am crazy and I am half drunk." He said something about overhearing a man, whose name he did not know, say something about having two 8 millimeter rifles which would pinpoint a target 500 yards. When asked what he was talking about, he said "I guess he was talking about that S.O.B. who is coming to Montreal next week." [REDACTED] said that he could explain better when he was sober and asked that he be contacted later.

On August 16, 1965, [REDACTED] advised that he did not have any specific information, but that several days ago he walked out of his office and two men were sitting on a bench near his office. He stated that he walked over close to them and one of the men made a statement that he had two 8 millimeter rifles, and that if anyone wanted to use one on MARTIN LUTHER KING, he would be glad to loan him one. [REDACTED] stated that the man doing the talking was a white male, age about 30, slender build, and was wearing blue pants which looked like part of a bus driver uniform. He stated that he could not furnish any better description of that man, and that he could not furnish

SECURITY MATTER - C

On page 1 of the August 15, 1965, issue of "The Miami Herald", daily Miami newspaper, an article reflected that on August 14, 1965, KING, while enroute to Puerto Rico to address a religious convention, stated the Los Angeles riots were "absolutely wrong, socially detestable, and self-defeating".

According to the article, KING later stated at San Juan that he favored use of the full force of the police power to quell the situation in Los Angeles.

KING added that he hoped the riots would not spread, but due to joblessness and housing conditions, every northern community is a potential powderkeg.

On pages 1 and 2A of the August 16, 1965, issue of "The Miami Herald", an article reflected KING stated, upon his arrival in Miami from Puerto Rico, that within the next few days he will go to Los Angeles to help restore Negro leadership in that riot-torn community.

KING stated he had been in constant touch with Negro leaders in Los Angeles since the rioting erupted Wednesday night.

According to KING, the trouble in Los Angeles resulted from the lack of a vibrant, non-violent program that gives oppressed people a chance to vent their fury without violence. KING said he is honestly compelled to admit that discontent is so deep and widespread that he feared other outbursts.

KING said the Negro rioting will not delay his plans to write both sides of the Viet Nam conflict in hopes of bringing about a settlement.

He scoffed at a Republican Congressman's proposal that he stay at home and help put down the Negro riots instead of embarking on a peace mission to North Viet Nam.

KING said he had no desire or intention to negotiate but "the orgy of bloodshed" in Viet Nam poses a threat to world survival and it is the proper concern of "a minister of the Gospel and an American citizen."

Martin Luther King . . . at Communist Training School

The above picture was made by an employee of the State of Georgia at the Highlander Folk School in Monteagle, Tennessee, during the Labor Day weekend of 1957.¹ Upon order of the Tennessee courts, the Highlander Folk School lost its charter and was closed on grounds of immorality in 1960, a charge subsequently upheld by the courts. The School reopened in 1961 and now operates under the name of the Highlander Center, 1625 Riverside Drive, Knoxville 15, Tennessee.²

- (1) Martin Luther King, Jr., of the Montgomery boycott and the Birmingham and Selma violence.³
- (2) The late Aubrey Williams, then President of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, which is a transmission belt in the South for the Communist Party, and which was formerly the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, an officially cited Communist front.⁴
- (3) Myles Horton, Director of the Highlander Folk School and now director of the Highlander Center.⁵
- (4) Abner W. Berry of the Central Committee of the Communist Party, USA.

² A letterhead of the Center, dated May 15, 1963, and signed by Myles Horton, stated: "... The Highlander idea, like a Phoenix rising from the ashes, has truly been born again in the Highlander Center. The summer program includes a south-wide voter education internship program designed to broaden and deepen the new Negro voter's concept of his rights and responsibilities. Need for this program became clear as we developed the citizenship schools now being spread throughout the South by Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference and student civil rights organizations."

⁴ "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," published January 2, 1957, by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, Washington, D. C.

J. EDGAR HOOVER TESTIFIES

The Communist Party is making a particular effort to find means "to exploit the militant forces of the Negro civil rights movement," FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has told Congress, and a "communist influence" exists in it.

Mr. Hoover said that the approximately 20 million Negroes in the U. S. "today constitute the largest and most important racial target of the Communist Party."

"The infiltration, exploitation, and control of the Negro population has long been a party goal. . . .

"In this drive, Negroes have, over the years, been subjected to intensive and extensive Communist agitation and propaganda."

"The Communist Party has always depicted itself to Negroes as the champion of social protest and the leader in the struggle for racial equality."

"The number of Communist Party recruits which may be attracted from the large Negro racial group in this Nation is not the important thing. The old Communist principle still holds: 'Communism must be built with non-Communist hands.' We do know that Communist influence does exist in the Negro movement and it is this influence which is vitally important. It can be the means through which large masses are caused to lose perspective on the issues involved and, without realizing it, succumb to the party's propaganda lures."

⁶ J. Edgar Hoover, testimony to House Appropriations Sub-comm., released 4/22/64.
⁷ J. Edgar Hoover, testimony before House Appropriations Sub-comm., 1/28/64.

100 - 106690 - 1729

In view of the fact that Communist influence in the Civil Rights movement CAN cause loss of perspective, it would seem that those Negro leaders who are sincerely interested in helping their people attain their Constitutional rights would never seek out nor accept any type of assistance from the Communists, since there most certainly would be subversive strings attached to this assistance. Communists simply will not support any group or movement which they cannot control or influence to a substantial degree. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is a case in point.

NAACP

Of the five founders of the NAACP, only one was a Negro. He was an identified Communist—W. E. B. DuBois. In 1958, J. B. Matthews, an expert on Communist infiltration, stated: "Listed on the current letterheads of the NAACP are the names of 236 different national officers. One hundred forty-five (or more than 61 per cent) of these individuals have been involved, in one way or another, with Communist enterprises, for a grand total of 2,200 affiliations of public record."

The files of the House Committee on Un-American Activities reveal records of affiliation with or participation in Communist, Communist-front, fellow-traveling or subversive organizations or activities on the part of the following past and present officials of the NAACP—the President, the Chairman of the Board, the "Honorary Chairman," 11 of 28 Vice-Presidents, the Treasurer, 28 of 47 Directors, the Chairman of the National Legal Committee, the Executive Secretary, the Special Counsel, the Assistant Special Counsel, the Southeast Regional Secretary, the West Coast Secretary, the Director of the Washington Bureau, the Director of Public Relations and two Field Secretaries. The transcript of this evidence numbers 121 pages of single-spaced, typewritten copy.

HOW have the Communists so successfully infiltrated the civil rights groups? On July 11, 1963, the Communist Party, USA, issued secret orders to its members to get in on the August 28th Negro March on Washington.⁸

Additionally, "... the Communist Party, USA, is now sending specialized Communists to attempt infiltration into the local branches of the Negro civil rights organizations. It is attempting to get its people in on local demonstrations. It is putting a major emphasis on new groups led by young and inexperienced leaders.

"These Communists are 'sleepers.' They have been instructed to keep their party membership and Communist sympathies secret from the public and from the Negroes they are volunteering to work with. These infiltrators have been instructed not to take overly prominent roles in civil rights demonstrations, nor to openly push violence, for fear they'll be investigated and their Communist identity become known.

"This grassroots attempt to infiltrate the civil rights movement is currently, at least, one of the major activities of the Communist Party, USA. It is part of a longstanding Communist aim of winning over Negroes."⁹

How can honest, responsible news coverage of racial agitation treat as insignificant the major factor of subversive influence? Former Communist, Manning Johnson gave a clue:

"... the media of public information is far from free of Communists and fellow-travelers who operate under the guise of liberalism. They are ready at all times to do an effective smear job. Among these red tools may be found editorial writers, columnists, news commentators, and analysts, in the press, radio, and television. They go overboard in giving top news coverage to radical incidents, fomented by the leftists, and also those incidents that are interpreted so as to show 'biased' attitudes of whites against Negroes."¹⁰

DELIBERATE SUBVERSION?

What, then, is the MAJOR PURPOSE behind Communist agitation in the civil rights movement? "... the major drive ... by the Communist Party ... (is) against the Constitutional structure of the United States, by trying to develop a removal of division of power guaranties in the South, ... and of building up extra-constitutional and extra-legal actions. ... It has nothing whatever to do with any sympathy for the needs of the Negro. ..."¹¹

"... under the guise of 'struggling for Negro rights,' (the Communists) have created all the explosive material for racial violence by making impossible demands, resisting sane and just decisions, opposing compromise and adjustment and demanding that everything must be done forthwith or not at all."¹²

"... setting up situations that bring about racial bitterness, violence and conflict ... constitute the Red's pattern of operation."¹³

Is it not curious that today's Negro leadership deliberately designs situations so expertly calculated to stimulate violence, even as they so loudly proclaim their dedication to the principles of NON-violence and passive resistance? Violence and physical conflict are precisely what they seek, even at the cost of wiping out all racial progress based upon understanding, goodwill, friendship and mutual cooperation which has been built up painfully over the years.

Why do Negro leaders agitate and demonstrate to the extent that violence becomes the inevitable result? Is it only by ACCIDENT that the tactics now being employed in the Civil Rights drive are so very similar to those advocated by the Communists? Or have the Communists been that successful in influencing, perhaps even controlling, not only the drive, but the leadership as well?

BAYARD RUSTIN

It was Bayard Rustin, the deputy of the August, 1963, March on Washington, whom Martin Luther King, Jr. called "a brilliant, efficient and dedicated organizer"¹⁴ and one of the best and most persuasive interpreters of non-violence."¹⁵

Rustin admits to having been a Communist,¹⁷ an active member of the Young Communist League from which he resigned, he says, in 1941. Also in the early 1940's, he served as Field Secretary to CORE, and was race relations director of the Fellowship of Reconciliation from 1943-53.¹⁸ He is a confirmed pacifist, coming specifically to the Negro cause via his work in behalf of the War Resister's League, a pacifist organization.¹⁹

He was a conscientious objector in World War II, which led to a 28-month prison term, on the charge that he violated the civil service law by failing to report for "work of national importance" to which conscientious objectors were assigned when deferred from the draft.²⁰

In 1947, he made a trip to India (ostensibly to study "passive resistance"). He became secretary of the War Resister's League in 1952, for which he still works.²¹ In 1953, he traveled extensively in Africa, where he has taken part in several nationalist movements.²² (Rustin helped to establish a center for non-violence for the World Peace Brigade in Dar es Salaam, Tanganyika.²³

Mr. Rustin organized a prayer pilgrimage in Washington in 1957,²⁴ and it was during this period that he not only attended the 16th National Convention of the Communist Party as an "observer,"²⁵ but also found time to serve as secretary to Martin Luther King, Jr.²⁶ (Rustin was King's secretary for five years from 1955-1960, and claimed to have helped form the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.²⁷) In 1958, he reportedly travelled to the Soviet Union to participate in a Communist propaganda show under the "Non-violent Action Committee Against Nuclear Weapons." On his return, Rustin organized Martin Luther King's 1958 march in Washington, which the Worker called a Communist project.²⁸ In 1959, a second youth march in Washington was organized by Rustin, which, like the one in 1958, was staged to support school integration.²⁹ As recently as 1962, he was still active in the General Strike for Peace Program.³⁰ In 1963, he not only opened an office for the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee in New York,³¹ but also organized the massive March on Washington.

On February 3, 1964, he attended a private cocktail party at the Soviet UN mission. Barely two weeks later, he was advertised as a speaker at a rally sponsored by the pro-Communist Emergency Committee for Disaster Relief to Cuba.³² As of January 5, 1964, he still belonged to organizations that serve, in the opinion of astute observers, specifically Communist causes, for instance, the Medical Aid to Cuba Committee.³³ Additionally, he has worked closely often as an office holder, with: the World Peace Brigade, "Liberation" magazine, the Monroe (N.C.) Defense Committee, the Committee for Non-violent Action, the Committee to Defend Martin Luther King, Jr., and the Greenwich Village Peace Center.³⁵ He has posed with Kwame Nkrumah, his "friend,"³⁴ who is Communist leader of Ghana; protested French atomic development, and apologized to the Japanese for U. S. atomic testing.³⁵ No less important than all this is his arrest and conviction on a homosexual offense in California in 1953! (See above.)

HUNTER PITTS O'DELL

Another of Dr. King's close associates who was formerly with the Southern Christian Leadership Conference has an even more indictable record of Communist affiliations. Hunter Pitts O'Dell has been identified under oath as a Communist and has pleaded the 5th Amendment before two Congressional committees investigating Communist Party activities.³⁶

O'Dell first came to Dr. King late in 1960, after working for the Bronx Citizens' Committee for Kennedy.³⁶ As of November, 1961, Hunter Pitts O'Dell (who also used the alias Jack H. O'Dell) was listed among those elected to the National Committee of the Communist Party of the USA, according to the 1962 two-volume study entitled Structure and Organization of the Communist Party of the United States, published by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

"In 1962, O'Dell was an organizer of a 'Freedom Rally' in Macon, Georgia, at which King was the announced speaker. O'Dell also attended the Southern Christian Leadership Conference's civil rights school in Dorchester, Georgia, in 1962. On one occasion in December, 1962, and on three occasions in January, 1963, O'Dell registered at the Waluhaje apartments in Atlanta, Georgia, as a representative of the SCLC. In January, 1963, O'Dell, King, and other officials of the SCLC flew together to Savannah on a Delta Air Lines plane and the expenses for at least one of O'Dell's trips to Atlanta were paid by the SCLC."³⁷

O'Dell was still reported to be working in the New York office of Dr. King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference as late as July 26, 1963.³⁸

Can it truthfully be said, then, that Dr. King is absolutely free of Communist influence? Is his statement that "there are as many Communists in the freedom movement as there are eskimos in Florida" entirely accurate?

A photograph taken at the 6th Annual Conference of King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference in Birmingham, Alabama, September 25-28, 1962, pictured Dr. King with Carl and Anne Braden, and James Dombrowski, all three identified under oath as Communists. Carl Braden, who is Field Secretary of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, and his wife were part of the notorious Louisville Seven, who purchased a house in an all-white neighborhood in that city, sold it to a Negro family, and then dynamited it to stir up racial trouble.³⁹ Dombrowski, as previously mentioned, served on the faculty of the Highlander Folk School, where the Rev. Andrew Young, Program Director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, received training. And, the Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, National Secretary of Dr. King's SCLC, also happens to be the new President of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, which has been identified by both House and Senate committees as a major Communist organ in the South. Additionally, when King promoted the demonstrations in Birmingham in the summer of 1963, his chief of staff was then Wyatt T. Walker, who is presently editorial advisor to the Progressive Labor Movement, which has been described by J. Edgar Hoover as a Marxist-Leninist group following the more violent Chinese Communist line.

Joseph Alsop, columnist for the Washington Post, in an article published in that paper on April 15, 1964, wrote: "Official warnings have been given to King about another, even more important figure in the covert apparatus of the Communist Party. After the warnings, King broke off his open connections with the man, but a second-hand connection nonetheless continues..."

Are we to believe that such associations have NOT influenced Dr. King? Then witness: He was among those sponsoring an appeal to the President urging either a new trial or a grant of clemency for Morton Sobell, who was convicted of spying.⁴⁰ He has publicly urged the admission of Red China into the UN.⁴¹ He signed a petition urging a suspension or reduction of the sentence of Julius Scales, a Communist who had been sentenced to six years under the Smith Act.⁴² Dr. King was also among 350 signers directing a petition to the 87th Congress to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities,⁴³ and he helped to initiate a petition to President Kennedy denouncing the House Committee on Un-American Activities, the Senate Internal Security Sub-committee and various Southern state Committees modeled after them.⁴⁴

Both by his associations and by his actions, Dr. King has indicted himself.⁴⁵ He has betrayed the trust of a legitimately aggrieved people by allowing himself and the cause he espouses to play directly into the hands of subversive elements. Rather than attempting to remove known Communists and fellow-travellers from the organizations he leads, he has gone so far as to use the mailing list of the *National Guardian*⁴⁶ to solicit funds for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference! Why? Other minority groups have achieved advancement without endangering the nation by using all of the deplorable tactics and deceit of the Communist Party—or supporting its strategy.

THE FUTURE — WHICH WAY?

When James Hood, the first Negro male to enroll at the University of Alabama, stated, "Why doesn't the Negro race wake up and go about this thing in a more intelligent way? . . . Who benefits from the conflict, the Negro masses or the Negro leaders? . . . There must be some more positive way of achieving first-class citizenship, a way without violence or protests . . .", he echoed the beliefs of two revered Negro Americans, George Washington Carver and Booker T. Washington. Both these men possessed a deep and abiding pride of race and had a firm belief in the ability of their people to rise above their past and eventually stand on an equal plane with all other races. Equality was to them not just a catch-word, but a living thing to be achieved only by demonstrated ability. By their own examples, they showed how their goals for their people could be achieved. But understanding and tolerance of the Negro's desire for improved status will never be achieved by following the deceitful Communist program of "civil rights." Only when enough Americans realize that the overwhelming proportion of "civil rights" agitation is manipulated from behind the scenes by Communists, Communist sympathizers, or fellow travellers, can we truly approach the problems of minority groups constructively. Then, we can also achieve real progress on a voluntary basis.

Assistant Director DeLoach contacted Special Agent [redacted] extra duty Supervisor, on 8/15/65, to determine whether Division 5 had information as to whether or not Martin Luther King, Jr., was planning to go to Los Angeles in connection with the current race rioting in that City. Mr. DeLoach advised that the White House had asked him for any information the FBI might have in this regard. Mr. DeLoach was advised the Division had no information that King would travel to Los Angeles in the near future. (u)

Mr. DeLoach instructed that SA [redacted] contact, by telephone, the SAC at San Juan for any information that office might have regarding King's plans for future travel. Mr. DeLoach asked to be advised only if that office was aware of such a travel plan by King. (u)

According to news reports, King arrived in San Juan by air on 8/14/65, and planned to fly to New York City on 8/16/65. [redacted] indicated that King felt that he could not be of assistance in quelling the rioting in Los Angeles and that it was a job for the National Guard. (u)

SA [redacted] telephonically, contacted SAC Estill at San Juan, who advised that that office had no information that King would travel to Los Angeles to deal with the rioting there. In accordance with Mr. DeLoach's instructions, SAC Estill was told to conduct no investigation regarding report of a possible trip by King to Los Angeles, but to furnish the Bureau any information in this matter that came to the attention of his office. (u)

NOTE: [redacted] appeared at the Bureau on 3/10/58 inquiring about a murder case and gunpowder tests. No derogatory information appears in Bufiles concerning him. John Lord O'Brien is apparently identical with the individual who was head of the War Emergency Division of the Department of Justice, 1917-1919, and Assistant Attorney General from 1929-1933. The Bureau has had spasmodic favorable correspondence with him in the past. We have enjoyed cordial relations with the Chattanooga Times; however, there is no indication in Editorial Ticklers reflecting [redacted] position with this paper in the past. It is noted he will return to Chattanooga August 20th.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

In 1937 Mr. John Lord O'Brien, a distinguished lawyer came to Chattanooga to defend the Tennessee Valley Authority which was under serious attacks in our courts. He made a successful defense all way through the courts. I became well acquainted with him as I covered the action in its entirety. He told me a story you know so well. He said "a young man came to my office in the Department of Justice to apply for an appointment." A Federal judge, whose name I can't recall had sent the young man with a recommendation that he be hired. He said he told the young man the judges recommendation was good enough for him - that he hired the young applicant. That man was you. I have thought about this story all through the years. I have seen how you have come to perfect an organization which has been so instrumental in protecting our country from criminals.

Unfortunately, you have been miserably handicapped in this important work in recent years. Vicious racketeers with political influence have been allowed to impair law enforcement officials in this Nation to the point that disrespect for law and all law enforcement agencies is the order of the day among so many irresponsible people. One of these racketeers was recently angled out and given a Nobel prize, apparently in recognition of his arrogance, infidelity to his nation, and his vicious imposition upon the people. and I mean law abiding. God fearing citizens our our part of the country. There are criminals behind the bars of the Nation's toughest penitentiaries who are less capable, who are better American Citizens.

It is a most depressing situation when a loud-mouthed demagogue, racketeer and hypocrite, such as Martin Luther King, can invade a law abiding, a peaceful community unmolested, and transform it into all^{7th} kinds that are indecent, outrageous and unlawful. When he can tell a federal judge who has placed him under an injunction, he choses not to obey it because, so far as he is concerned, it is unjust.

Men like John Lord O'Brien never seld such contempt for lawful authority. Nor in all his political and legal battles was he disrespectful and contemptuous to those who may have disagreed, or assumed the other side of the question. It was men like him, like you, who have made America great. It is left for so called "men" like Martin Luther King to desecrate the Temples of Justice to shower contempt upon those who would resist his lawlessness. Even more saddening is that some people in high places do not seem to have the Character of an O'Brien, of a Hoover, to say "No" to him.

They are sowing the seeds being reaped right now in Los Angeles, Chicago, in cities all across the nation in the streets schools churches, market places with "sit-ins" kneel-ins" "wade-ins" "Steal-ins", "Arson-ins" "Loot-ins" "Get. White-ins"

God pity those who stand for such atrocities to this great nation.

Sincerely

SECURITY MATTER - COMMUNIST

b7(c)

Confidential sources of this Bureau who have supplied reliable information in the past have furnished the following information.

Bayard Rustin and Harry Wachtel, advisors of Martin Luther King, Jr., recently conferred regarding the position of King on Vietnam. They both stated their fear that King might take some precipitous action before they are consulted. They, therefore, agreed to present an idea to King that is politically useful and through which they could creatively inject King into the crisis. Rustin's idea is to have King write President Lyndon B. Johnson stating that King was happy to have a chance to talk with the President about Vietnam and that "he was reassured that he was prepared to negotiate with all governments but that the situation is so grave, both morally and politically, that he should leave no stone unturned for the whole world to see that he is prepared to negotiate with anyone in an effort to bring the war to a close and that he would recommend that in order to deal with what has been a very confused matter, that he (the President) be prepared to include Ho Chi Minh and the leader of the Viet Cong in the negotiations." By doing this, Rustin said, the way would be paved for King to write a letter to Ho Chi Minh stating that he had talked with the President and written to him and that he felt that it was time for Ho Chi Minh to make clear that he was prepared to go to the negotiating table in the interest of humanity. Rustin said that King could write as a winner of the Nobel Peace Prize and King could read the letters he had written to the two leaders at a public affair, thereby casting an image of King as a great moral leader. [49]

Wachtel indicated that before he would agree to the foregoing he would first desire to have a conference call with King on this matter. [10]

b(2) b(7)(D) [REDACTED] has informed of a conversation between Bayard Rustin and Harry Wachtel, advisers of King with subversive backgrounds, concerning King's position on Vietnam. Rustin proposed having King write President Johnson stating that he was happy to have had a chance to talk with the President about Vietnam. According to Rustin's plan, King could later at a public affair, read the letters he had written to the two leaders and thus cast an image of King as a great moral leader. A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on August 8, 1965, that Martin Luther King (President of the SCLC) and some of his advisors, specifically Bayard Rustin (Organizer of the March on Washington), Harry Wachtel, and Andrew Young (Executive Director of the SCLC), conferred on that date. Their conference, according to the source, was devoted exclusively to the convention of the SCLC, which opens in Birmingham, Alabama, on August 9, 1965, and runs through August 13, 1965. (u)

King, in opening the conference, said the real purpose in conferring with his advisors, was to decide which resolutions would be presented at the convention and which would be most newsworthy. This prompted all to agree that the one dealing with the Viet Nam conflict would be most newsworthy, especially since King is being questioned continuously on this issue. In light of that conclusion, a lengthy discussion ensued over what strategy should be utilized in order to get the resolution before the convention at the appropriate time. Several suggestions were made, but it was agreed that Rustin should be the individual to handle the questions dealing with Viet Nam. In order to do this, Rustin will work on a statement dealing with the question, write a memorandum on the question, and prepare an open letter to the President, to the Premier of the Soviet Union, and to the heads of all countries involved in the Viet Nam conflict. The letter will be written in the name of King and will state that he writes as a Nobel Peace Prize recipient and as an advocate of non-violence, and as such, urges negotiations to end the conflict.

Rustin, in declaring his position, said the civil rights movement was not ready to speak to the world on Viet Nam, but that King could speak as an individual, thereby getting the impact of the civil rights movement behind him. In that way, Rustin said, the other civil rights leaders could not criticize King for speaking out on the matter. (u)

The letters to the various world leaders should go out on Thursday, Rustin said, but in the case of President Johnson, he should receive a telegram first, followed by the letter.

Following a decision on Viet Nam, King and his advisors then discussed strategic questions dealing with the resolution on civil rights. In that regard, it was agreed that the resolution should be presented on Wednesday night (August 11, 1965).

With regard to the resolution on civil rights, King said he had talked with Stanley Levison and Clarence Jones and had asked them to prepare the resolution but to date, he had not received anything other than a general statement dealing with civil rights. He said he would instruct Walter (Walter Fauntroy, Director of the Washington, D.C. office of the SCLC) to use the remarks made in the statement to prepare the overall resolution. U

In concluding their conference, King and his advisors took up the question of the SCLC financial report. In that regard, King said their auditors were working on the report but had not been able to conclude it because they were baffled with the problem as to how they should make known their findings. In explaining, King said the report reflects that for the past ten months, the SCLC received approximately one and one half million dollars, and if they include the months of July and August, 1965, they would report almost two million dollars for the 12 month period. U

The same confidential source advised on August 8, 1965, that Wachtel contacted Rustin that night to inform him that he had made reservations for them aboard a Delta Airlines flight which leaves Newark at 7:05 pm, Wednesday, August 11, 1965, and arrives in Birmingham at 7:30 p.m., Central Standard Time. On August 8, 1965, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Stanley Levison had changed his airline reservation from Delta Flight 819, 9:55 a.m., August 9, 1965, to Delta Flight 927, leaving Newark Airport at 4:30 p.m., August 9, 1965. In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned: "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights". In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL), and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party". He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states. U

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450. U

TO : The Director

DATE: July 28, 1965

FROM : N. P. Callahan

SUBJECT: The Congressional Record

Pages 17771-17772. Congressman Martin, (R) Alabama, spoke concerning an article written by Haynes Johnson which appeared in the Washington Evening Star on July 26, 1965, entitled "Selma Revelled Four Months After Their 'Finest Hour' Rights Forces Are In Disarray," pointing out that it is a report of what has happened in Selma since the civil rights march. Mr. Martin commented on the rising crime rate and also on activities of certain leaders of the Selma march. He stated "I now make the statement that other leaders of the so-called civil rights movement will be exposed for activities not in keeping with their avowed purpose of trying to improve the condition of the Negroes in America. I have been reliably informed that the President is aware of an FBI file on Martin Luther King which proves him to be far from the sentimental religious leader he professes to be. I have been informed that at least two major TV networks have this information and I hope that in time it will be made public." Mr. Martin placed the article from the Star in the Record.

At 3:10 P. M., 8/14/65, Special Agent New York Office phoned and stated that King had called Bayard Rustin in New York shortly before 1:55 P. M. The call was apparently from an airport and King's flight to San Juan, Puerto Rico, was called at 1:55 P. M. during the conversation.

King asked Rustin what he should say about the Los Angeles riots. Rustin suggested King deplore violence; deplore the ghetto life which leads Negroes into hopelessness, and urge civilian police review boards where police brutality is present.

King stated he would be back in the Continental United States Monday.

New York is sending Seat of Government and San Juan a teletype with details. Mr. Baumgardner was informed of foregoing.

ReBulet to Atlanta, 7/26/65, reporting a contact between KING and one Dr. JERRY REED (PH), 7/14/65.

The NYO searched the indices for the name Dr. JERRY REED and variations thereof and as a result, found three one hundred references on one JERRY REED; however, a review of these references failed to furnish any identifiable information with the name JERRY REED.

A further effort was made to identify Dr. JERRY REED in that the credit records of the Greater New York Credit Bureau and the NYCPD records were checked, but to no avail.

However, the NYO will remain alert to information from its sources, which would identify Dr. JERRY REED.

Re: Communist Influence in

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished information on the night of July 31, 1965, revealing that Stanley David Levison and Clarence Jones were in contact on that night. Levison told Jones that he had recently contacted Andy (Andrew Young, Executive Director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, SCLC) to learn what action had been taken in regard to Bill Stein, and the project he (Levison) had proposed. He said Andy apprised him that the Administrative Committee (SCLC) had adopted it and had agreed to go forward with it. Jones inquired if that meant that Stein had been hired (by the SCLC). Levison answered that since his proposal to embark on the project had been approved, he would say yes, adding, however, that someone would have to talk to him (Stein) about his background and other matters. said that someone other than Andy (Andrew Young) would have to talk with him since Andy had already reached a satisfactory conclusion. (S)

With regard to the project proposed by Levison, attention is called to information by the same source on July 9, 1965, that Levison and Bill Stein were in contact on that date, during which time Levison said his memorandum had been read by Martin Luther King and that King would present it to the Executive Committee on July 19, 1965. The memorandum, according to Levison, urged that funds be raised through the SCLC by soliciting contributions from various churches. (S)

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on July 31, 1965, that Bayard Rustin (Organizer of the March on Washington) was in touch with Donald Slaiman on that date. During their meeting, Rustin mentioned that he was writing a speech for Martin Luther King, which deals with Viet Nam. In that regard, Rustin said he had a hard time convincing King that he should not press the Student Non Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) to take a position on the issue. (u)

Also during their contact, Rustin and Slaiman discussed a scheduled leadership conference (of civil rights organizations) for the near future. The source believes the conference will be in Washington, D.C., and will be for the purpose of promoting harmony in the civil rights field. Rustin and Slaiman agreed to work for the success of the conference and in that regard, Rustin said he would be in Washington, D.C., (u)

In an application signed by Slaiman in November, 1960, while endeavoring to obtain access to classified information, he stated he had never been a member of any organization which advocates the violent overthrow of the Government. INDEPENDENT SOCIALIST LEAGUE (ISL)
FORMERLY WORKERS PARTY (WP)

The May 4, 1942, issue of "Labor Action," then an official publication of the Workers Party (WP), carried an article which reflected that the WP was formed in April, 1940, as a result of a split within the leadership of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP). The article stated that when the Hitler-Stalin Pact was signed and Poland invaded, the minority group within the SWP, in proclaiming the formation of the WP, condemned the pact as being imperialistic in nature and stated it would not support either imperialist camp.

The April 25, 1949, issue of "Labor Action" contained an account of the Fifth National Convention of the WP, held March 24-27, 1949, in New York City, which reflected the change of name of the organization from the WP to the Independent Socialist League (ISL) in order to emphasize the character of the group as a propaganda group for the spreading of socialist ideas and not as a full-fledged political party.

The July 14, 1958, issue of "Labor Action," an official publication of the ISL, contained an article captioned, "The ISL Program in Brief." The article indicated: "The ISL stands for socialist democracy and against the two systems "of exploitation which now divide the world: capitalism and Stalinism. The ISL, as a Marxist movement, looks to the working class and its ever-present struggle as the basic progressive force in society. The ISL is organized to spread the ideas of socialism in the labor movement and among all other sections of the people. There can be no lasting and genuine democracy without socialism and there can be no socialism without democracy.

The September 22, 1958, issue of "Labor Action" contained an undated statement signed by the Political Committee of the ISL which indicated that the ISL had been dissolved. The statement urged former ISL members to join the Socialist Party-Social Democratic Federation.

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

A 3-Time Visitor Reports: It Was 'Different,' but Not Red

By NAT CALDWELL
Staff Correspondent

TRACY CITY, Tenn.—Merchants up this way say if an election could be held on whether Highlander Folk School was a Communist training school, most Grundy County folks would vote they think it was.

For 30 years Highlander operated in this mountainous region and had some famous visitors and supporters, including Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Strange things—strange for their time—went on at Highlander in the years before it was closed in 1962 after a state court found beer was served on the premises.

The aura of mystery that surrounded the school and what went on there stimulated the belief by some local people that what was taught at Highlander was communism. This fear now has been fed by leaflets and billboards which have been distributed across the South by the White Citizens Council.

Ten years after the picture was taken Horton can laugh about the Communist caption.

"Highlander wasn't Communist then. It never has been," said Horton during a recent visit to Nashville where he attended the Race Relations Institute at Fisk University.

"The Citizens Council knows that too," he added.

Horton was and is a man who involved himself in the labor movement and in the civil rights movement—sometimes when he wasn't wanted.

Denies Reports

Back in the early 1950's there were reports circulated among some liberal groups that Horton was admitting FBI men and McCarthy committee investigators to Highlander to train them to spy on Communists.

Horton, who denied this at the time, says today: "While the Citizens Council knows we weren't Communist, the doctrinaire liberal must have known we would not have used our facilities to train professional government spies."

Off and on during the years various charges were aimed at Highlander and Horton, who now runs a successor school at Knoxville. A 1959 state legislative committee hearing took a look at Highlander—and that probe left the impression that Horton was an opportunist but not a communist.

On three occasions during its 30-year existence, in 1936, 1947 and again in 1960—this reporter visited Highlander.

What went on there certainly might have been unusual to the mountain folks who lived nearby. For one thing, there were integrated meetings—whites and Negroes attending seminars together, singing together, square dancing together, their children swimming together in the lake.

There were lectures and round table discussions. The talk may have drifted over the heads of the farmers and miners, some of whom brought their children to the kindergarten Horton operated. There was talk of government and politics, labor versus capitalism; socialism versus fascism.

Very early it was a place where some labor unions sent some of their officials to discuss their problems. Still later the emphasis moved to civil rights, as opposed to work in fields of labor.

Not Un-American

Certainly there was the discontent of the working class expressed in the 1930's by representatives of organized labor who represented men struggling out of the depression just as in the 1950's there was discontent expressed by Negroes who were beginning to struggle for equal rights.

But there was never the feeling that this was subversive or un-American, even when some ideas which seemed impractical, hair-brained or half-baked were offered.

Much of the thinking and talking at seminars and at informal discussions around the dinner table centered on the needs for an urban, industrial society. Horton constantly tried to keep a light note on the conversation, but frequently when he told stories that were supposed to be funny he would forget the punch line. He was an incessant name dropper, talking of some association he was supposed to have had with Walter Reuther, Reinhold Niebuhr, Mrs. Roosevelt or James Carey.

There was a good deal of singing—songs like "Solidarity Forever" and "Picket Line Blues" and "Samuel Hall." Later such songs as "We Shall Overcome" and "Freedom" became favorites as the emphasis switched to civil rights.

In a library of 8,000 volumes there were a few books on communism — perhaps 20, including a well-worn copy of Das Kapital.

Merchants of this town of 1,547 sold groceries and other supplies at Highlander — but they don't want to talk for the record about the school. One of them that I had interviewed a few years back when I was up this way, told me recently he doesn't think that the changes of time—in the area of labor and civil rights—have helped Highlander's local reputation.

People up here, he said, still have the general impression

Nat Caldwell
Tells how it was that Highlander was Communist. And, he said, it doesn't change anybody's mind because "President Johnson now says the same things that Miles Horton used to say."

Last Thursday was the fourth anniversary of the auction sale that disposed of the school's Grundy County property for $43,700.

That sale came after a Grundy county jury found the school "guilty" of being a desegregated institution in defiance of state laws, and ruled Horton was guilty of running the school for his personal gain and guilty also of selling beer without a license. Communism was not involved in the jury's verdict.

A circuit judge, on the basis of these findings by the jury ordered the school's charter revoked. The Tennessee Supreme Court upheld the judge on the grounds of operating for personal gain and selling beer — but threw out the segregation count. In October, 1961 the U.S. Supreme Court refused to hear an appeal or review the case.

No Question

There was never any question about Highlander being an inter-racial school. And there was never any problem either about getting a drink of beer.

The school was located in a remote, if not private, part of the county. It was just twelve miles from Tracy City — about three fourths of the way to Monteagle by Highway 86, a right turn up a country lane and on about a mile to Summerfield.

Summerfield, before Highlander started in 1932 and after it left in 1962, was just a little rural community like Allardt and Rugby and Pleasant Hill — other Cumberland plateau towns.

In Highlander's 30 years School President Horton always boasted — and weather records back up his claim — that no northern visitor ever failed to call for blankets on the hottest summer night . . . "Our money always goes for books, food, instruction or scholarships," he would say. "Air conditioning is for Lake Junaluska."

The Tracy City businessman I talked with said he is proud that "for years I kept the FBI and the American Legion current on Highlander."

He did not smile at the recollection of Horton's famous warm-up introduction to Highlander for visitors. Often, he said, it was a prelude to an appeal for donations.

"Everybody wants to forget we had that mess up here," the businessman said.

Horton has never denied that the school he ran was "different," but he offers to reporters who ask about the Communist charge the fact that when he applied for a passport to England in the middle of the 1939 Tennessee legislative committee probe of "communism" at Highlander, he got his passport quickly and without a hitch. He was going to England to act as chairman at an international educational conference.

Horton also points out the Treasury Department revoked the school's tax exempt status after the U.S. Supreme Court's 1962 refusal to hear an appeal from a Tennessee Supreme Court decree revoking its charter.

But Internal Revenue agents checked the charges of subversion as well as the charges of operating the school for personal gain. After a few months the tax exemption for school supporters was restored for the succession Highlander school. Horton now runs in Knoxville. Also the exemption was made retroactive so the school could collect on its past due foundation grants.

Horton, while denying the Communist charge, boasts of Highlander's achievements "as a training center for civil rights workers and, earlier, for union labor organizers."

Proud of Kindergarten

Horton was proud of the kindergarten at Highlander. It was for those under 5 years old, not unlike today's Operation Headstart.

He boasted to visitors about the kindergarten as he did about the weather. It was staffed, he claimed, by the nation's top instructors, vacationing at Highlander and paying their own way. They were, he said, regular staff members of the nation's most famous kindergarten, the Chase School.

There were other Horton boasts in addition to weather and kindergarten. He maintained his school had done a better job than the labor movement in training labor leaders. And probably because of this criticism of labor he was squeezed down to two or three minutes on a state CIO convention program, a state labor federation meeting and a railroad brotherhood's program. This was in the late Forties.

A Loud Griper

During that very period Horton griped louder and more and more publicly as he called attention to his school's "right to be heard" in labor circles. The more the unions tried to ignore him, the more he complained.

Highlander was switching during this period from labor leadership training to integration leadership training. Most of the Tennessee unions, at the time, took a dim view of combining the two. Most labor leaders thought union desegregation in the South would wreck their organization.

When Congressional committee investigators placed Horton on their grill in the following years as though he was a well known Communist Horton entered into a name-firing contest with investigators. He nearly panicked the Eastland Committee's New Orleans hearing in 1953. He was ejected from hearing rooms for upsetting hearings, as a nuisance, and once as a disturber of the peace.

This reporter questioned him at a Tennessee labor convention after the New Orleans hearings. About that time, probably based on his weird performances, information spread that Highlander might be a training base for professional FBI and committee informer-infiltrators.

Following the New Orleans hearings this reporter questioned him at a Tennessee Labor Convention about whether he had accepted funds from J. Edgar Hoover or Senator Joseph McCarthy. Horton's reply was:

"No."

The Real Reds

Horton and the school had some difficulty in successfully refuting such charges at the time. The reason: the only two well known Communists seen fairly frequently around Highlander in the early days, Paul Crouch and H. B. Ross, were by this time making the rounds of the congressional committee hearings. Like scores of other professional Communists they were singing their hearts out for pay. They -- and Horton -- were suspect among the Communists.

In those years hard-core Communists were trying to infiltrate the labor movement, just as they are trying to infiltrate the civil rights movement today, and this may account for the presence of such known Communists as Crouch and Ross at Highlander.

Today a revived Highlander exists under a new name at Knoxville. It has under way training schools for civil rights workers and literacy courses at half a dozen sites across the South. And soon it will come up with a program for Appalachian poverty areas.

This is the main building of the old Highlander Folk School.

Defending the Billboards ... Was Highlander Communist?

A Council Leader
Speaks His Piece

★ ★ ★ ★ ★
By DR. MEDFORD EVANS
Consultant, Citizens' Council

"THERE'S such divinity doth hedge a king—" said Shakespeare. Yet pretenders have fallen. Let us not be intimidated by a name and an image.

In September 1957 Martin Luther King was present at the Highlander Folk School in Monteagle, Tennessee, and was photographed by an agent of the Georgia Commission on Education. Someone has asked whether — if Highlander was a Communist training school—the photographer was a Communist also. The answer is that he probably passed for one at the time. One of the pictures he took shows Martin Luther King making a speech.

In another, which was to become famous, King is seated in an audience which included also Myles Horton, director of Highlander; the late Aubrey Williams, then president of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc.; and Abner Berry, of the Central Committee of the Communist party, USA. Berry is a Negro, Horton and Williams white. Highlander and SCEF are far-left institutions with characteristically ambiguous relationships with the Communist party.

This group photograph has been widely circulated for many years. Initially it was distributed by the Georgia Commission in a circular showing racially integrated activities at Highlander. In 1963 Mississippi Governor Ross Barnett showed it before a televised hearing in Washington. Thousands of letter-size copies have been distributed by the Nashville Citizens' Council.

available for general public display. The authenticity of the photograph has not been questioned. What has been questioned is the propriety of publishing it. Or, more exactly, of displaying it on a billboard, for even such a critic as THE TENNESSEAN has published it more than once as a news photo. There is a fine line there somewhere.

In general, the critics are like Hamlet when he said, "All of which I most powerfully and potently believe, but I hold it not honesty to have it thus set down."

Civic leaders are reported in the press as deploring exhibition of the billboards, but none challenge the authenticity of the photograph. There seems to be little interest in whatever truth is back of the sign, but excited concern for its possible effect on some commercial or political image.

Intemperate

Often the criticisms are as intemperate in style as they are irrelevant to the substantive issue. A Chamber of Commerce official falsely characterizes the Citizens' Council as "clandestine," and speaks of "hooded Ku Klux Klanners." THE TENNESSEAN of June 13 continued a front-page story about the Nashville billboards to Page 6-A, where the continuation lies under a photograph of a Klan group in Natchez, Miss. There is no line between the picture of hooded men standing under one of the nationally distributed billboards and the two-column head "Citizens' Council," which does not include the usual catch line, "continued from page one."

The effect is that here is a photograph of the Citizens' Council in Nashville, Tenn., when it is actually a photograph of the Klan in Natchez, Miss. This is either very sloppy make-up, or very good. Be that as it may, the Council and the Klan have no connection with each other. If THE TENNESSEAN and the Chamber of Commerce official imagine that their own obvious imputation of guilt by association is merely paying the Council in its own kind, they may have failed to reflect that while the Citizens' Council has no control over who stands under one of its signs to be photographed, Martin Luther King certainly did have control over whether he went to a Communist training school or not.

The Chamber of Commerce man is as absurd as he is pompous when he delivers the dictum, "No good can ever come from maligning a race through one of its leaders." Of course, to show Martin Luther King associating with a predominantly white group is not to malign a race—certainly not the Negro race. Incredibly, this spokesman for the Nashville area business community, in affecting to deplore the creation of "ill will," says that the Citizens' Council billboards remind him of the "era of hatred which existed in Dallas before President Kennedy's murder." The Chamber of Commerce's own image is hardly going to be helped either in Dallas or Tennessee by that kind of immoderate outburst.

Better Balanced

Better balanced is the comment of the Metro Human Relations Committee chairman, as quoted in THE TENNESSEAN of June 20, for he observes correctly that no action could be taken to prevent display of the billboards without infringing the "right of free speech under the first amendment." Yet this dignity too deplures the billboards, "which serve no purpose other than to cause strife and tension in the community."

(Editor's Note: The official quoted here was Robert J. Warner Jr.)

Perhaps he has not followed the career of Martin Luther King. King has stated that his basic method of operation is the development of "creative tension." And from the Montgomery bus boycott of 1956 to the Selma march of 1965 he has done a remarkable job of creating tension. If you are against tension, it is hard to see how you can be for Martin Luther King.

It should be added that the billboards do serve another and a very useful purpose, which is the presentation of an important fact about an important man. The lawyers have a saying, "Res ipsa loquitur," the thing speaks for itself. The basis of Anglo-Saxon justice, the basis of the doctrine of freedom of the press, is that citizens may judge of and from facts.

If the photograph of Martin Luther King at Highlander were fake, the billboards should come down. Since it is genuine it should be studied for its meaning, not avoided with a shudder. If interpretations vary, let the dispute go on. Nothing is gained by fearful or obstinate silence. Not even communism is more ominous for the future of America than the reluctance of leaders to face facts.

Image of Piety

Not that it is pleasant to face all the facts about Dr. King. The man has an image of piety, which it may seem impious to deface. But FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has a good image too. And either Martin Luther King or J. Edgar Hoover is a liar. A hard choice, but we have to take one or the other. We can't have both. Mr. Hoover called Dr. King a liar. Therefore, if Dr. King is not a liar, Mr. Hoover is one. Vice versa, if Mr. Hoover is not a liar, then Dr. King is one. Yes, it may be said, but do we have to talk about it? Since not only our way of life but our lives may be at stake, we should.

But it needs no blast from J. Edgar Hoover to raise questions about King's veracity. When the billboards first appeared in Louisiana and Alabama, Dr. King was quoted by the Associated Press as saying of the Highlander Folk School, "I spent exactly one hour there back in 1956. If I was trained there it was mighty short training." That the visit seems to have been in 1957 rather than 1956 is not important, and there is no need to quibble over the probability that it lasted "exactly one hour." But several things about this statement are important:

First, King does not deny that the Highlander Folk School was a Communist training center.

Second, what he does deny—which is that he could have received a significant amount of training in the short time he was there—is something which the billboard never said. It says simply, "Martin Luther King at Communist Training School." He could have been there not to receive training but to give it. Another photograph exists, as noted above, showing him at a sort of lectern. He could, of course, have given a significant lecture in an hour.

Third—and most important—the spirit of King's ostensibly facetious remark is totally misleading. However brief the time he spent at Monteagle, he has collaborated over a period of years with the Highlander institution. The following appeared in the New York Times of Feb. 23, 1960 under the by-line of Claude Sitton:

"Atlanta, Feb. 22 — The Southern Christian Leadership Conference and the Highlander Folk School have joined forces to train Negro leaders for the civil rights struggle. The program was disclosed here by conference headquarters. The conference is made up of various anti-segregation groups and is headed by the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. A conference spokesman said eleven Negroes had just completed a week's training course at Highlander. Another class of fifteen or more will be held in about two weeks, he said. The institution is situated in the Cumberland Mountains near Monteagle, Tenn., between Chattanooga and Nashville. It is headed by Myles Horton and has been involved in several controversies because of the political affiliations of persons connected with it."

Dr. Medford Evans is a paid consultant for the national office of the Citizens' Council. In this letter to THE NASHVILLE TENNESSEAN he defends the council's billboard attacks on Martin Luther King, and defends the policies of the council.

Then Times reporter Bitton went on to say, "Some observers said the affiliation of Dr. King's organization with Highlander raised serious questions of prestige for the conference. They contended that because of the delicacy of the racial problem and Highlander's controversial status, it would be difficult now for Southern whites of liberal or moderate persuasion to deal with the conference." The accuracy of this estimate of Southern whites of liberal or moderate persuasion may be questioned but there is no question that Dr. King's association with Highlander has not been a brief or trivial affair.

The school at Monteagle was closed down shortly after the above dispatch appeared, but activity continued from an address in Knoxville called "Highlander Center." An appeal for financial support signed by Myles Horton under date of May 15, 1963 speaks poetically of "the Highlander idea like a Phoenix rising from the ashes," and claims as part of the Highlander program "the Citizenship Schools now being spread throughout the South by Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference and student civil rights organizations." The letterhead carries the name of "Rev. Martin Luther King Jr." as one of the "Highlander Sponsors."

Just how derogatory the Highlander association may be to Dr. King remains a matter of opinion, but what ill accords with the saintly image of him is that he himself should undertake to contract to one hour an association which on the record is spread over five or six years, and to minimize the importance of that association when on the record it involved collaboration at the top echelon on policy and program.

Back of all the controversy over Dr. King's veracity, and back of the concern over the billboards, is the basic question of the nature of his relationship with communism. The liberal attitude seems to be that this question must not be raised, much less answered. The thoughtful and informed citizen, however, cannot avoid raising it. Anthony Lewis reported in the New York Times Nov. 20, 1964, "It was learned today that Mr. Hoover also had said during the interview"—in which he had called King the most notorious liar in the country—"that Dr. King had Communist connections." Mr. Hoover did not specify the connections, but it seems unlikely that he was making it all up, and some of King's Communist connections can be specified from the public record.

His Associates

His personal and professional associations have included Bayard Rustin, Hunter Pitts O'Dell, alias Jack H. O'Dell, and Carl Braden—all important figures in the Communist movement in this country. More famous Communist associates of King are Ahmed Ben Bella, the former dictator of Algeria, and Kwame Nkrumah, the "Saviour" of Ghana. When Nkrumah was installed at the helm in Accra, King was there on the platform with his friend. When Ben Bella came to the United States in October 1962, he saw John Kennedy in the White House and Martin Luther King in the Barclay hotel in New York. To show the pecking order, perhaps, King changed the time of his appointment with Ben Bella, and the latter accepted the change. My source is the Harlem edition of the Pittsburgh Courier. On points, King seems further ahead of Ben Bella today than ever.

King makes no secret of his admiration for leaders round the world in the so-called "wars of national liberation," with which the "Negro revolution" in the United States may be classed. It is so classed by the Communists. That is why they support it. It is so classed by the Citizens' Council. That is why we oppose it.

Besides his associations—and those with Rustin and O'Dell could well be the subject of a separate article—King has put into "the file" a record of signing Communist petitions and supporting the Communist line on important issues of foreign policy. The Communist "Worker" of Nov. 27, 1960 listed King as signer of a petition to free Morton Sobell, convicted along with the Rosenbergs of wartime espionage, whose case became a Communist cause celebre. Another petition signed by King urged a pardon for Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, the North Carolina Communist violator of the Smith Act. This information was carried in the August 25, 1961 issue of "New America," a Socialist publication.

Foreign Policy

As to support of the Communist line on foreign policy, the UPI reported on October 10, 1961 that King had urged admission of Red China to the United Nations, and Allen and Scott reported in early December 1964 that King had wired President Johnson to demand a halt to aid to Congolese Premier Moise Tshombe. "King sent this forceful message," said the columnists, "after the President authorized the use of U.S. planes to drop Belgian paratroopers on Stanleyville to rescue hundreds of white hostages in rebel hands." There have been few clearer choices between Communists and anti-Communists than that between the Stanleyville "rebels" and Tshombe. King chose the Communists.

I appreciate this space in THE TENNESSEAN. (I am assuming as I write that I shall get it.) I have not used much of it to defend the Citizens' Council. Actually, I thought your attack on us lacked luster. You raised a little doubt as to whether I really have a Ph.D. from Yale. I do, but I don't see that it matters very much.

What matters more is that you neglected the substance of Dr. Henry Garrett's important remarks on "The Reality of Race." You know, the race controversy in this country at present could pretty well be summed up by the questions, Do Negroes exist? and, Should they? Ashley Montagu says, No, they don't exist, not really; it's all in your mind. Lyndon Johnson says, They do exist, but they ought not to. The Citizens' Council says they do exist, and they ought to continue to exist. Dr. Garrett supported the first of these propositions with weight of scientific evidence; whole American tradition supports the second with respect for human diversity.

Your chief complaint against us seems to be our "air of secrecy." We just have that air, don't we? But really you suggest no secrets darker than the number of our members, and the identity of individuals whom we ask to sign something—a general area of administrative reticence—which with Dr. King's own SCLC. Before me as I write is a copy of a plea on Martin Luther King's personal letterhead for his dear friends to send checks payable to the SCLC. For their convenience a business-reply envelope was enclosed, and on the reverse side under the flap there was space for four names and addresses, with this heading: "I suggest that you send your appeal to the following persons without mentioning my name." Some of these techniques are just about universal, aren't they?

These "four horsemen" of racial agitation have brought tension, disturbance, strife and violence in their advancement of the Communist doctrine of "racial nationalism."

Security Matter - C

On Monday, August 9, 1965, "The New York Times", page 11, column one, reported a story entitled, "Doctor King Planning to go to Harlem", in which Martin Luther King is reported to have said he intended to visit Harlem later this year as part of his tour of Northern cities.

"Harlem is the nation's largest Negro ghetto and the very symbol of Negro degradation" the article in part reports King to have remarked on August 8, 1965, shortly after he had preached the morning service at Riverside Church, New York City. King's remarks, according to the article, followed reports that he had decided to exclude Harlem from the list of communities in his Northern civil rights drive. He did not specify whether his visit to Harlem would be related to his Northern civil rights drive.

King, according to the article, reaffirmed his belief that the United States should declare its willingness to negotiate with the Viet Cong guerilla forces to end the war in South Viet Nam. The article, in quoting King, reported his remarks as follows:

"You cannot have negotiations without including the force that is more involved than any other in the war."

"The Baptist Clergyman", the article concludes "also said that although his civil rights organization did not have the resources to lead peace demonstrations, he would continue to speak out on this subject as an ordinary citizen, and as a clergyman in the prophetic Judaeo-Christian traditions."

GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL PARTY

In his book "This Time The World," copyrighted in 1961, George Lincoln Rockwell identified himself as Commander, American Nazi Party of the World Union of Free Enterprise National Socialists (ANP - WUFENS), Arlington, Virginia.

The April 4, 1963 issue of "The Richmond News Leader," a Richmond, Virginia daily newspaper, reported that George Lincoln Rockwell had, on the previous day, again applied for the American Nazi Party to be chartered in the State of Virginia, but this request was turned down by the Virginia State Corporation Commission. This action was taken pursuant to an act of the 1962 Virginia Assembly which prohibits use of "Nazi" or "National Socialism" in a Virginia charter. This article further pointed out that Rockwell's party is presently chartered in the State of Virginia as the George Lincoln Rockwell Party.

On August 14, 1964, a source advised that the ANP-WUFENS was organized by George Lincoln Rockwell at his residence in Arlington, Virginia, on February 26, 1959, as an international "National Socialist" movement based on the German Nazi Party headed by Adolf Hitler. He added that Rockwell is the dominant force and personality in this party; that he is espousing a "line" of hatred against the Jews and Negroes; and that he is seeking, through speeches, distribution of literature and picketing, to establish a cohesive and dominant political party in the United States and in foreign countries.

According to the "Stormtrooper's Manual," an official publication of the ANP, the phases of ANP struggle for power are fourfold, namely, first "to make ourselves known to the masses;" second "the dissemination of our program and the truth about the Party;" third "organizing the people who have been converted to our propaganda;" and fourth "the attainment of power through the votes of the newly-won masses."

Allen said, however, in his opinion, Rockwell has only completed phase one.

Security Matter - C

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on August 3, 1965, that Bayard Rustin (organizer of the March on Washington) and Harry Wachtel were in contact on that date. Their contact, according to the source, concerned Martin Luther King's position on Vietnam. In that regard Rustin and Wachtel agreed that King might take some precipitous action before consulting them; therefore, they concluded that they needed to come forward with an idea that would be politically useful to King, which would creatively inject him into the Vietnam crisis. E

According to the source, Rustin's proposition was to have King write President Johnson a letter as follows:

5 "He was happy to have a chance to talk with him about Vietnam and that he was reassured that he was prepared to negotiate with all governments but the situation is so grave, both morally and politically, that he should leave no stones unturned for the whole world to see that he is prepared to negotiate with anyone in an effort to bring the war to a close; furthermore, I would recommend that in order to deal with what has been a very confused matter that he (the President) be prepared to include Ho Chi Minh and the leader of the Viet Cong in the negotiations." In this way, Rustin said, the way would be paved for King to write a letter to Ho Chi Minh saying that he had talked with and written to the President and that he felt that it was time for Ho Chi Minh to make clear that he was prepared to go to the negotiating table in the interest of humanity.

King, as a recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize, could write the two leaders, and at a later date during a speech, could read the letters, thereby creating an image as a great moral leader, Rustin said.

Wachtel, after listening to the proposition of Rustin, said he wanted to have a conference with King on August 4, 1965, and after the conference he would express his opinion in the matter.

In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11 - 18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned: "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights". In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL), and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party". He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker", February 11, 1957, page 1, column 2, reported that Bayard Rustin, Executive Secretary, War Resisters League, was an observer at the 16th National Convention of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), held in New York City, on February 9-12, 1957.

The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast Communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958.

Another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 19, 20, 1964, that Bayard Rustin contacted Benjamin J. Davis on those dates and sought his advice as to how he could escape from a speaking engagement to which he was committed. On the latter contact,

Hon. J. Edgar Hoover,
Director, F.B.I.,
Washington, D.C.

Dear sir:

Perhaps, you are familiar with the enclosed picture, though possibly, not under this descriptive heading? They are being circulated throughout this area, and, thought I would get your opinion, as, to the truth or falsity of the printing on back of same.

If true, I believe they should be played up, as, the average colored residents, down here, are quiet, orderly, hardworking people, content with their way of life, wanting no part of recent demonstrations, marches, sit'ins, or 'downs, which these would-be 'headline grabbers' have been staging in otherwise peaceful communities.

After living down here for over twelve years, observing and talking to white and colored natives, one gets a pretty good picture of how Americans can, and, do get along, each side respecting the other's privacy and rights, to the advantage of all.

Your quoted opinion of King, as printed here, seems to be borne out in this picture, bringing to mind the saying I heard, as a boy, "Show me your company and I'll tell you what you are!"

Being a Post Office disability retiree for the last thirteen years, after thirty-one years service, I can be easily vouched for in the Civil Service records.

With best wishes for your continued good health,
I am, sincerely yours,

ack. 8-10-65
